MRA invites you to attend the Labor Relations Virtual Roundtable!

Whether you're a seasoned professional or have limited experience with labor and employee relations, you'll find it valuable to participate in this new virtual roundtable. MRA's Labor Relations Virtual Roundtable provides the confidential forum for you to hear from experts and engage with your peers from across the upper Midwest in discussions on key labor relations issues, including productivity, quality, teamwork, handling grievances, arbitrations, and contract negotiations – all from the convenience of your own workspace.

We invite you to join us for the 2021-2022 season.

First session:
Tuesday, October 19, 2021

We'll discuss:
Managing COVID: vaccine policies, OSHA compliance, employee concerns, and other related matters in a union environment.

Future topics will be determined by roundtable participants and may include:

- Trends in contract negotiations, wage and benefit changes, and collective bargaining agreements
- Aligning labor relations strategies with key HR and business strategies
- Recent developments in collective bargaining proposed legislation
- Managing the cost of health care in collective bargaining agreements
- Hiring qualified employees in a tight labor market

We hope to see you at the Labor Relations Virtual Roundtable!
