Learning & Development Virtual Roundtable

Are you looking for thoughtful, innovative, and practical ideas to make the most of your resources and produce great outcomes for your learners and your organization? MRA's Learning & Development Virtual Roundtable is specifically designed for L&D professionals. This roundtable provides the opportunity to cultivate a valuable peer network to share best practices and strategic approaches, collaborate on solving challenges, and brainstorm ideas.

The Learning & Development Virtual Roundtable is professionally facilitated and provides connectivity in a confidential forum with fellow L&D practitioners across the upper Midwest—all from the convenience of your workspace.

Join us in discussions on:

- How to Evaluate Your Training Portfolio
- Building a Culture of Learning from the Top Down
- Assessing the Needs of Multi-Generational Learners
- Bite-sized Training: What does it look like and how do we know if it works?
- Measuring ROI
- L&D's Role in Attracting New Talent and Reducing Turnover
- And more!

Learn, share, and enhance your skills with experienced L&D peers just like you! For more information on the Learning & Development Virtual Roundtable, including enrollment details, visit www.mranet.org/roundtables.
